Affiliate Advertisement Placement Requirement:

CAP Code Rule 16.3.13: Marketing Communications must not be directed at those aged below 18 years through the selection of media or context in which they appear.

In short, the content of an ad must not appeal to under 18s and the ad must not be displayed where 25% or more of the audience is made up of under 18s.

To help you identify which sites have the correct audience, we would suggest using Comscore data to check sites before agreeing to the advertisement: <https://www.comscore.com/> and as always, please make sure you are very clear when setting the requirements for both the targeting and placement of your marketing communications.

In addition to the above, if you become aware that any of your marketing communications have been or are being displayed in a non-compliant context, we expect you to take immediate action to end all marketing activity in that context.

Affiliate Marketing Content Review:

Please contact one of your dedicated account managers, who are more than happy to review your marketing content – if in doubt, just request a review. This service is completely free!

In addition to asking for a review from one of your account managers, you can also seek advice from the CAP Copy Advice Team who can help you ensure that your marketing material remains compliant with the CAP and BCAP Codes. This is a free service, which can be accessed here: <https://www.asa.org.uk/about-asa-and-cap/people/copy-advice-team.html>

Compliance Checks:

We will undertake random spot checks on all marketing content done by our Affiliates - so please ensure you follow all necessary regulations.

One of your account managers will notify you of any changes that need to be made and these must be treated with top priority.

Non-Compliance:

All marketing content must be compliant with ASA regulations. Further to compliance checks if an Affiliate is found to be Non-Compliant, the following action may be taken:

We will retain any commission generated until the relevant changes have been made and the account manager deems the content compliant.

If the following changes are not made, we will take further action, including account closure and suspension from the affiliate platform.

Responsible Gambling:

Players can self-exclude themselves from their accounts via the responsible gambling page on-site when logged in or by contacting Customer Support and requesting.
